He completed his Advanced Diploma of Dental Prosthetics in 2012. Ahmed started his career as a dental technician before becoming a prosthetist. His career has included work in public health and in managing dental laboratories, and in 2012 he opened his own clinic. He now brings that experience to our team.

full-arch rehabilitations for complex cases, working with our dentists and specialists

Which treatment suits you is decided after an examination, and your dentist and prosthetist will explain your options, the risks, the likely maintenance and the cost before you decide. Results vary for each person.
