How can you check Dr Manisha Bhatt's registration?

Every dentist in Australia must be registered with the Dental Board of Australia, and the public can check this on the AHPRA register at ahpra.gov.au. Search for the practitioner's name on the register to see their registration type and any conditions. If you would like help finding the right entry, our team can tell you the name under which Dr Manisha Bhatt is registered.

What should you ask before treatment?

A good first step is to explain your concern, symptoms and goals when you book, and to bring a list of your medicines and relevant medical information. Before any treatment starts you can ask:

What do you recommend, and what is it intended to achieve?

Are there other options, and what are the risks and limits of each?

How many visits will it take, and what will it cost?

What care will I need afterwards?

We provide a written treatment plan and quote before treatment starts, and results vary for each individual.

How do payment plans and health fund claims work?

We quote before treatment starts so you know what to expect. We offer interest-free Payright plans with 0% interest, fortnightly instalments over 3 to 30 months, for plans up to $20,000. Payright is subject to eligibility and approval: you need to be 18 or over, an Australian permanent resident, have ID and have a verifiable email and mobile number. TLC personal loans from $2,001 to $50,000 over up to 84 months are also available, with the rate set by credit assessment. HICAPS claiming is available on-site, and we bulk bill eligible children under the Child Dental Benefits Schedule.
