Who is Sarah Van Eyk?

Sarah is a Dental Hygienist and Therapist in our clinical team. Her qualification, a Bachelor of Oral Health (BOH) from Charles Sturt University, is listed on our team page . She works alongside our general dentists and specialists as part of the collaborative approach we take to treatment planning.

What does a Dental Hygienist and Therapist do?

Hygienists and therapists focus on preventive and maintenance care for teeth and gums, and work within the scope of practice set for their registration. At Core Dental, hygiene care sits alongside check-ups with a dentist. You can read about the service on our dental hygiene page, and about what to expect at a visit in what does a hygiene appointment involve?

Where can you see Sarah?

Sarah is listed with the team at Core Dental Caroline Springs. Our practice is open Monday to Friday 8.00am to 6.00pm and Saturday 8.00am to 1.30pm, and closed on Sunday. See the Caroline Springs clinic page for the address, direct phone number and the full clinical team.

How can you check a practitioner's registration?

Dental hygienists and therapists are registered health practitioners. You can search any practitioner by name on the public register at https://www.ahpra.gov.au, which shows their registration type and any conditions. We encourage you to check the register for any health practitioner you see.

What should you ask before a hygiene appointment?

It helps to tell us about your medical history, medications, any gum bleeding or sensitivity, and what you hope to achieve. You can ask what the visit involves, how often you should return, what you can do at home between visits, and what any recommended treatment will cost. We quote before treatment starts.
